when your happy with it - wetransfer and then send nationalwritingday@firststo ry.org.uk

we thank you x

remember to look directly at the camera as if you are talking directly to the person watching rather than to the screen

and after you've done
that, please say directly to camera,
everyone has a story to tell ... what's yours?

you can tell us, for instance, what writing
means to you, what you get out of it, why it's good for you, for others, what you enjoy, what you
love

we are after a roughly forty seconds to
two minutes max video,
of you talking to the camera on your smartphone

you could be in your bedroom, kitchen, desk, cupboard, toilet,
where you write,
or where you think,
or where you'd like to write

leave a few seconds before you start, then begin with the words 'why write?' wait another couple of seconds, then, using one of the sentence starters provided or something similar, tell us!

just pop it on
a stable surface
to keep it steady
adjust the height
with a book
or box if needed

have the phone
this way round
in 'landscape'
and set it
so you can see yourself
on the screen

have it about the same
height as your head but doesn't really matter
stand, sit, lie, dance!

just be more than
arms length
or further,
away from the
camera
- be creative!

deadline 18 March!!!
